

Disclosure statement for Jens Ludwig for “Algorithmic Fairness” AEA Papers & Proceedings 2018

January 12, 2018

The submitted article’s acknowledgment sections accurately report all of the financial support I have received for this paper, which comes entirely in the form of general operating support for the research center I run at the University of Chicago (there was no funding given specific to this project). None of the funding sources are “interested parties” to the topic of this work, nor do I have any paid or unpaid positions with “relevant” organizations that have an interest related to this article. No outside parties had the right to review this paper prior to publication.