Crawford Disclosure Statement

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

The only source of financial support for this paper has been a £10,000 Research Grant entitled "Welfare Effects of Adverse Selection in the Italian Loan Market", awarded to Nicola Pavanini and myself on February 1, 2012, by the center Competitive Advantage in the Global Economy (CAGE), based at the Economics Department of the University of Warwick (UK). This grant allowed Nicola to travel to Italy to access the data necessary to conduct the research.
