

Disclosure Statement for Justin Gallagher for the publication Household Finance after a Natural Disaster: The Case of Hurricane Katrina

I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I have not served in any paid or unpaid positions in organizations that are relevant to the research conducted in this paper.

I have no relative or partner who has financial interests that relate to the research in the paper or who has served in paid or unpaid positions in organizations relevant to the research.

Three of the sources of data used in the paper have restrictions on the dissemination of the raw data files. The first source of data is the Federal Reserve Bank of New York Consumer Credit Panel / Equifax (CCP). The second source of data is the confidential version of the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) data. The third source of data are the CoreLogic real estate data.

Two organizations had the right to review the paper prior to submission to AEJ: Policy. The first organization is Equifax which reviewed our use of the CCP data. The second organization is the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago which reviewed our use of the HMDA data.
