

Disclosure Statement

February 23, 2017

For the paper “Long-Term Effects of Temporary Incentives on Productivity in Medical Care Clinics”, joint with Pablo Celhay, Paul Gertler, and Paula Giovagnoli, submitted to The American Economic Journal: Applied Economics, I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interest that relate to the research described in this paper. The World Bank has provided travel funds.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Christel Vermeersch', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Christel Vermeersch