

“Sources of Inaction in Household Finance: Evidence from the Danish Mortgage Market”

Kasper Meisner Nielsen Disclosure Statement

Financial support

Financial support for this article was provided by research grants awarded to John Y. Campbell and Tarun Ramadorai by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation and the International Growth Centre. Steffen Andersen received financial support from the European Research Council under ERC Grant 639383.

Data provision

The data were provided to the authors by Statistics Denmark (see Section 2.2).

Kasper Meisner Nielsen

All parties from which Kasper Meisner Nielsen has received significant financial considerations over the past three years are listed in his publicly available CV. As far as he is aware, none of these sources of financial considerations have any direct interest in the topic of this paper, meaning that they are not likely to come under the provided definition of “interested parties.”

All significant positions that Kasper Meisner Nielsen holds are publicly available on his CV. His paid and unpaid affiliations do not place any formal restrictions on his published work.