Author: Seth Benzell

Manuscript: "A Network Of Thrones: Kinship and Conflict in Europe, 1495 – 1918"

Journal: American Economic Journal: Applied Economics

I, Seth Gordon Benzell, a postdoctoral associate at the MIT Initiative on the Digital Economy, have no financial interest in the outcome of the research paper "A Network of Thrones: Kinship and Conflict 1495-1918" which has been submitted for publication to AEJ: Applied Economics. While conducting this research, my source of funding was a research assistant stipend from BU (where I did my PhD) and later my salary as a post-doc. I do follow two Habsburgs on twitter, but they haven't offered to pay me anything as a result of this research.

Sincerely,
