

Disclosure Statement for Jesse Shapiro - The Effect of SNAP on the Composition of Purchased Foods: Evidence and Implications

Shapiro has, in the past, been a paid visitor at Microsoft Research New England and a paid consultant for FutureOfCapitalism, LLC. Shapiro has been paid for writing by the New York Times. Shapiro's research grants and professional associations are listed here. Shapiro has conducted other research using data provided by the anonymous retailer; this research is described here.

Shapiro's spouse has a disclosure statement here and a list of professional associations here. Shapiro's spouse has received research funding from the Laura and John Arnold Foundation in the last three years.