

Brenden Timpe Disclosure Statement for

“Prep School for Poor Kids: The Long-Run Impacts of Head Start on Human Capital and Economic Self-Sufficiency”

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Data collection for the War on Poverty project was supported by the National Institutes of Health (R03-HD066145). Data linkage and analyses for this project were supported by the Laura and John Arnold Foundation. The study team gratefully acknowledges the use of the services and facilities of the Population Studies Center at the UM (P2C HD04128), the California Center for Population Research at UCLA (P2CHD041022), as well as the Michigan RDC (ITR-0427889). During work on this project, Timpe was partially supported by the NIA (T32AG000221) as a UM Population Studies Center Trainee. The research described in the paper has received approval from the IRB at the University of Michigan (HUM00100509).