

Alexandre de Cornière declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper « Anticompetitive bundling when buyers compete ».