

Disclosure Statement for Gerald E. Daniels Jr.

Understanding Students' Expected Earnings Beliefs after College at a Historically Black College/University

The author is a faculty member at an HBCU. Further disclosure regarding potential conflicts is limited in order to protect data confidentiality and avoid identifying the data source. No institutional input was sought or required for this work, and the analyses and conclusions were reached independently. This research was supported by J-PAL (Grant GR-3345). The author declares no conflicts of interest. This study obtained IRB approval from all relevant institutions.