The author declares that she has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Funding: This work was partially funded through the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. Specifically, I won a “Fall Research Competition Grant” in the amount of $40,121 to support four different projects, of which the current manuscript is one project. The amount was dedicated to data purchase (not yet spent) and the tuition and stipend of a graduate student project assistant who helped download some of the data needed for this project. The Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation supports a wide variety of research among junior faculty at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. I noted this funding source in an acknowledgement in my manuscript.
