

2023 John Bates Clark Medalist

Congratulations Gabriel Zucman

Through his entrepreneurial and creative pursuit of new data and methods for economic measurement, Gabriel Zucman has uncovered a range of fundamentally important facts quantifying the importance of tax evasion and measuring the rise of top income and wealth inequality.

This research provides key insights that inform policy debates on the practical design of tax systems around the world. The 2023 John Bates Clark Medal was awarded to Gabriel Zucman in recognition of these impressive achievements.

www.aeaweb.org/about-aea/honors-awards/bates-clark/gabriel-zucman

About the Award

One of the most prestigious and eagerly anticipated AEA awards, the John Bates Clark Medal is awarded annually each April (formerly biennially from 1947–2009) to an American economist under the age of forty in recognition of outstanding research accomplishments and contributions to economic thought and knowledge.

www.aeaweb.org/about-aea/honors-awards/bates-clark